

Eastern Fresh Growers

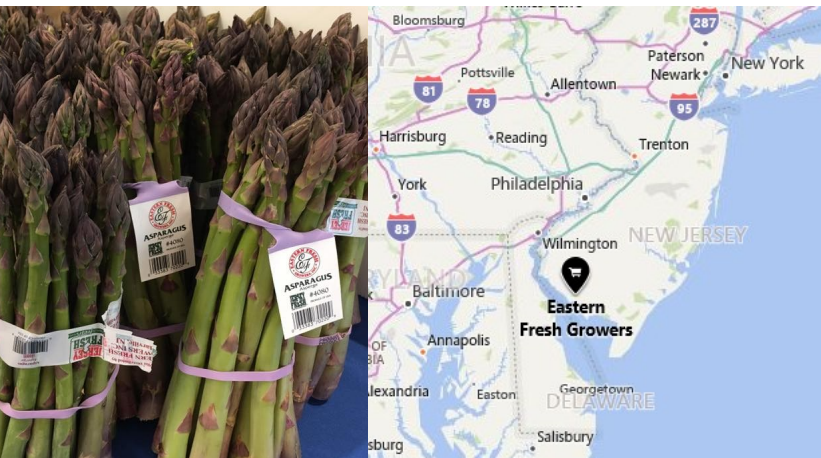

Cedarville, New Jersey

In 1683, four Sheppard brothers moved to southern New Jersey and began their own vegetable farm. Since then, farming has been a family tradition for many generations of Sheppards. They began farming in their current location on Sayres Neck Road in 1888.

Today, Sheppard Farms is operated by Erwin and Tom, both Cornell University graduates. They farm 1500+ acres. In peak-season they employ about 240 workers. The Sheppards have always taken pride in their finished product and look for ways to continue improvement.

In 2010 they began upgraded their packinghouse. In 2015 they upgraded their asparagus packing machinery.

Eastern Fresh Growers is the sales company for Sheppard Farms, Jersey Legacy Farms, and other farms in the area.
